TELLS COUNTY FARM HISTORY

JUDGE IRA K. ALDERMAN ON COURT AT THE TIME

A RAILROAD DISPUTE

Fight Over Bond Issue Caused New Court to Be Created By Legislature

(By Judge Ira K. Alderman)

The destruction by fire of the Nodaway County Farm Home brings to mind some reminiscences of fifty-five years ago, when negotiations were began by the Nodaway County Court for the purchase of a farm home, commonly called the Poor Farm.

At that time the county court was composed of William Leeper and Elijah Shelton, representing the two districts of the county, and the writer, who was, at the time, presiding judge of the Court, by virtue of his office as judge of Probate.

The following order of Court at the February term, 1871, ordered that "Joseph E. Alexander, Theodore L. Robinson, and Solomon Shell be and they are hereby appointed by this court as commissioners on behalf of Nodaway County to make a selection of a poor farm for the use of Nodaway County, to report March 3, 1871. Ira K. Alderman, president; Wm. Leeper and Elijah Shelton, County Justices; I. N. Wray, sheriff; and Joseph Jackson, clerk."

A Dispute Over Railroad

They recommended the purchase of the farm now owned by the County, but the report was not made until a new county court had been appointed by the governor, and thereby hangs a story of some interest.

What is known as the Creston branch of the C. B. & Q. railroad was under contract for completion to the Iowa state line, I think January 1, 1869. Nodaway County had voted bonds to the railroad company. The road had been completed but failed to get through on exact time. The railroad company filed application to the County Court for the issue of the bonds. Judges Leeper and Shelton, at that time constituting a majority of the court, refused to issue the bonds on the grounds that the road was not completed in time. The railroad brought suit against the county. The county, by majority of votes, namely Judges Leeper and Shelton, employed Judge William Herron and David Rea of Savannah, Mo., to represent the county.

Protested By Alderman

The writer, believing that the county could not escape liability on so narrow a thread, filed a written protest against the court's action, which became a matter of record, in said court.

The case came to trial at the Supreme Court's session held in St. Joseph, Mo., and was argued in behalf of the railroad by Gen. Stringfellow, of Atchison, Kas., and Gov. Willard P. Hall of St. Joseph, Mo.

The writer attended the trial and heard the argument. The Supreme Court decided that the County would have to issue the bonds, and ordered the proper writ of mandamus to that effect.

Judges Leeper and Shelton formed a bloc against the wishes of Maryville people, generally, and a plan was concocted to get them out of the court.

New Court Appointed.

Honorable M. G. Roseberry was then state Senator of this district and Hon. Wm. A. Jones was the county representative. At the instance of leading citizens of Maryville, in which doubtless the railroad people had a hand, a bill was passed by the legislature at the instance of our senator and representative repealing the law whereby the judge of probate became the presiding judge and substituting a law for a new court, thus legislating Judges Leeper and Shelton out.

The Governor appointed the new court, (I give these names from memory(Major Wm. R. Hays, Judge Wm. Brady and Adam Terhune. This new court acted on the commissioners' report and the present county farm was purchased pursuant to report, March 3, 1871.

I think there was same little dissatisfaction by some that the farm was too far out and inferior in quality, but it was accepted because it was offered for sale cheaply.

Agrees It Should Be Closer.

The writer had no further official connection with the purchase but was left to his duties as judge of probate. From that date to the present, the writer has never visited that farm other than to pass by it on other business. I look with some interest on the proposal, published in the Democrat-Forum, of the present county court, and other interests, to dispose of the present county farm for another tract of land nearer to Maryville, and shipping facilities. If such a transaction is made, it will conform to my idea at the time of the purchase of the farm, that a first class piece of land near to Maryville should have been acquired, notwithstand that the commissioners were most excellent men of high personal standing, and each one a personal friend of the writer.

TURNS DOWN GRAVEL ROAD

CHILLICOTHE MEETING OPPOSES PLAN BY COMMISSION.

CALLS IT "WASTEFUL"

Representatives Believe Four-Inch Substitute Could Not Hold Heavy Traffic On Highway.

The proposition of the state highway department to gravel surface all of the unpaved portions of the highway from St. Joseph to Hannibal this year, and to complete the paving within the next six years, was rejected by representatives of cities and towns along the route at a meeting held at Chillicothe yesterday.

Only representatives from two towns, Macon and Marceline, were favorable to the gravel proposition. Resolutions opposing the gravel surfacing were offered by representatives from St. Joseph, Osborn, Cameron, Hamilton, Nettleton, Breckenridge, Mooresville, Utice, Chillicothe, Meadville, Wheeling, Laclede, Brookfield, Monroe City, Bevier and Hannibal.

The resolution opposing gravel, which was overwhelmingly adopted, stated:

It is the sense of this meeting that four inches of gravel on soil of the character of that along route No. 8 and under the heavy travel that will obtain will not prove satisfactory or economical. We are opposed to the substitute as a waste of money and as not warranted by law, and we favor the continuation of the present policy of the highway department of apportioning all available primary funds to the several primary roads on the basis of cost and of constructing each year as much concrete as possible after doing the necessary grading and bridging.

This policy is just and fair to all concerned and in harmony with the spirit of the law and we recommend that it be strictly adhered to, so that all primary roads will be completed at the same time.

Furthermore, there will be changes in the highway commission; another governor and three legislatures between now and 1931 and we do not know what effect those may have on the road program. Therefore, we are apprehensive that something of this kind might prevent carrying out the plan of paving all in 1931, and, in the meantime, No. 8 will have been deprived of its due appropriation for the intervening years.

The commission proposed, at a meeting in Kansas City Tuesday, that the unpaved portion of the highway from Maryville south be surfaced with gravel by the end of this year and the paving completed by the end of 1932.

The tract contains 40 acres and is about midway between Clearmont and Hopkins. The consideration was $4,000.

2,785 Telegrams Were Sent From Here

Reported Today KFNF at Shenandoah Had Received 190,000 Telegrams and 300,000 Letters.

The exact number of telegrams sent from the Western Union office here to KFNF at Shenandoah was 2,785, according to C. W. Payne, manager. It was thought yesterday that the messages would reach 3,300, but in making the count late yesterday they fell short of that number.

It was stated today KFNF had received 190,000 telegrams and 300,000 letters since Monday.

Grading on Pickering Road to Be Resumed

Contractor Is Ready to Start Tomorrow on Channel Changes in Canal Brnach.

Grading on the Pickering road will be resumed tomorrow by C. H. Perry, who has the sub-contract for grading. What is known as a drag-line outfit was placed in position today, and work will be begun on the necessary channel changes in Canal branch, over which a large concrete bridge has been constructed.

Work during the past month has been confined to the bridge, which now is 93 per cent completed. The culverts are 85 per cent completed, grading 49 per cent, and the project as a whole 42 per cent, according to E. Warren Gotwals, project engineer.

Cummins and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Watkins, the latter acquiring the Cummins home on West Terrace place. The consideration was given as $7,000.

Hickory Stick Passing Teaching Factor

Old-Fashioned Methods No Longer Used In Character Building, Hoover Tells Educators.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The "spare the rod and spoil the child" theory of character building has no part in the American education system, Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared today before the National Education Association.

The rule of the long-cut hickory has been supplanted by the installation of sportsmanship, leadership and personal responsibility. This plan, in Hoover's opinion, is making for character faster and better than ever before. Modern tendencies demand a high degree of specialization, he said, and added that science and an exact knowledge is secondary to a trained mind.

NEAT PROJECT FROM PARNELL

GARDENING SUBJECT

Contains Instructions And Seeds.—Will Be Paired With An Indian School.

An interesting garden project portfolio, made by Red Cross Juniors of the seventh and eighth grades of the Parnell Grammar School, was sent out this morning from the Nodaway County Red Cross offices to national headquarters. This portfolio will be paired with one from an Indian school.

The portfolio deals with garden vegetables and garden flowers. It is quite well worked out, with everything carefully arranged. An essay on gardening by Merle Giesken, an eighth grade pupil explains the manner in which a garden should be planted, and diagrams show what vegetable to plant in each section. The essay was based on recommendations of the United States Department of Agriculture.

An outline in the portfolio also recommends the time to plant each vegetable and flower.

Miss Iva Christiansen is the teacher of the grades which worked out the project. Mrs. Fern Crull is supervisor of Junior Red Cross work in the county.

Enrollment statistics of the two grades along with a letter to the Indian school preface the portfolio.

In the closing pages of the book, many packets of vegetables and flower seeds are pasted. Direction are given for the planting of each.

The vegetable seeds include: lettuce, cucumbers, onions, watermelons, citron, carrot, tomato, radishes, peppers and muskmelons.

Flower seeds are: zinnia, marigold, verbena, four o'clock, forget-me-not, nasturtium, bachelor's button, larkspur, sweet William, balsam, canterbury bell, snapdragon, pansy, aster, mourning bride, poppy, and sweet pea.

Those who had part in the making of the portfolio were: Millicent Beard, Nellie Collins, Paul Griffey, Beatrice Hall, Ruth Jenkins, Perry Lewis, Maxine McClain, Kerman and Viola Miller, Hazel Prather, Pauline Stites, Woodrow Baleman, Viola Beatty, Gertrude Harris, Merle Geisken, Harry Kaufman, Genevieve Millikan, Mildred Miller, Florence New, Harvey Overman, Elton Ransom, Edna Riley, and Arthur Walters.

Railroad Given Right to Add to System

Washington, Fe. 25.—The Kansas City Southern Railway was today authorized by the interstate commerce commission to acquire partial control of the Texarkana and Ft. Smith Railroad. The Texarkana road was also given authority to issue ten million dollars in first mortgage 5½ per cent gold bonds.

MAY NOT NEED A BOND ISSUE

CURRENT REVENUES TO PAY FOR NEW INFIRMARY?

A TWO CENT INCREASE

Judge E. T. Bailey and Fred Wright Estimate $71,420 Would Be Available.

Belief that it may not be necessary to vote bonds for the erection of a new county infirmary was expressed today by E. T. Bailey, presiding judge of the county court, and Fred Wright, deputy county clerk and statistician.

Judge Bailey and Mr. Wright estimate that a 2-cent increase in the county levy will provide sufficient funds for the new building when added to the $17,000 of insurance.

The plan has not yet been submitted to the other members of the court, but its sponsors believe that it will meet with favor. By providing for the building out of current funds instead of calling an election and issuing bonds, they estimate that the county will be saved approximately $18,000.

30-Cent Levy Proposed.

The 1926 valuation of the county is approximately $60,000,000. If the present county levy of 28 cents be increased to 30 cents, the total revenue provided would be $180,000, to which would be added railroad, telegraph and telephone tax of $15,000 and merchants' tax of $2,000. These would make the total revenue $197,000.

The county court each year apportions the estimated revenues among the various county funds. Last year they were divided into twenty-eight parts, of which four parts were given to the salary fund, five to the pauper fund, four to the contingent fund, fourteen to the bridge fund and one to the jury fund.

Under the plan suggested for this year, the revenues would be divided into thirty parts. They would be apportioned as follows:

Salary fund, three parts,	$19,700.
Contingent, five parts,	$32,800.
Bridge fund, nine parts,	$59,100.
Jury, one part	$6,600
Pauper fund, 12 parts	$78,800
Total	$197,000.

The lower apportionment for the salary fund is made possible because it will be relieved this year of claims for back salary of prosecuting attorney and court reporter, aggregating $7,600.

Old Bridge Debts Paid.

The bridge fund also has been relieved of a burden by the payment of all old warrants. Deducting these payments, amounting to about $25,000, the amounts actually expended for bridge work of last year was about $54,000.

The jury fund would remain about the same, but the contingent fund would be inercased by one part.

From the $78,800 which the twelve-part levy would give the pauper fund must be deducted $32,000, the amount spent last year in maintaining the infirmary and in other forms of aid. This would leave a balance for building purposes of $46,800.

The fund would be increased by the insurance of $17,000 and $11,700 cash now in various funds. Back tax collections, which in 1925 amounted to $5,920, also would be applied. The foreign insurance tax, it is estimated, would yield $6,000, and estate tax collections would yield $12,000.

All these would make a total of $99,420, but it would be reduced by tax collectors' commissions, about $8,500, and the county's share of taxes allowed to become delinquent, probably $7,500. The net total then would be $83,420.

The Wright-Bailey plan is even more conservative, deducting the $12,000 of tax collections expected this month but which may not materialize. They estimate the minimum available for a new building at $71,420.

Westerners to Support of Rail Amendment

Kansas Representative Would Provide That Merits of Wage Awards Be Considered By Board.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Western members of Congress rallied around the amendment by Representative Hoch, Kansas Republican, to the Watson-Parker railway arbitration bill when debate on the measure was resumed in the House today.

Under Hoch's amendment, the interstate commerce commission would take into consederation the merits of wage awards when determining transportation rates.

With Hoch's provision, opponents of the bill declared the railroads would pass on to the public the increased wage awarded by arbitration boards, created in the bill.

Railroad executives and labor leaders who joined in drafting the bill opposed Hoch's amendment, saying it would tend to destroy settlement of wage disputes in the rail industry.

COOLIDGE HAS NEW TAX BILL

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO SIGN MEASURE SOON.

FINISHED YESTERDAY

More Than 2,300,000 Taxed Last Year Will Be Relieved By New Act.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The new tax reduction bill, signed by Vice-President Dawes and Speaker Longworth, was placed on President Coolidge's desk this afternoon for signature. It becomes a law immediately after the President attaches his name.

Washington, Feb. 25.—Congress yesterday ordered the $387,000,000 tax reduction bill sent to President Coolidge, completing work on its first and probably most important piece of legislation of the session.

The president is expected to make the bill effective with his signature at an early date, although he is permitted ten days to study it.

Final congressional approval of the measure came late yesterday, with the acceptance by the senate, 61 to 10, of the compromise reached in conference with the house. By a similarly overwhelming vote, the house ratified the compromise Tuesday.

No Tax for 2,300,000.

Carrying provisions for relief of virtually every federal tax payer, its effects will begin to be felt when first income tax installments fall due March 15. More than 2,300,000 who paid income taxes last year will be relieved of all taxes under the measure.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders defended the measure in the four hours of senate debate yesterday on the conference agreement, and a proposal to recommit it to conference for further tax reduction was defeated on a point or order.

Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia, made this motion, which would have instructed the senate conferees to insist on repeal of the taxes on admittances, dues and automobiles.

Neely Appeal Loses.

Leaders on both sides argued this would cause undesired delay, and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, made the point that the motion was out of order, since it would not provide a means of getting the bill back before the senate.

Vice President Dawes upheld the point of order and an appeal from his ruling by Senator Neely was voted down, 62 to 8. The roll call on adoption of the conference agreement followed immediately.

EAST IN GRIP OF BAD STORM

GALE SWEEPS ALL OF INDIANA EARLY TODAY.

SNOW IN WISCONSIN

High, Raging Wind Cuts Crystal Springs, Miss., off From Outside World.

Two storms that started yesterday in two widely separated parts of the North American continent, northern Alberta and north Texas, met early today near the southern end of Michigan with cyclonic aspects and this afternoon was spreading over virtually the entire eastern half of the United States, with high winds, heavy rains and thunder storms marking its course.

The path of the storm led in a northeasterly direction in St. Lawrence valley, and by tonight, United States weather bureau officials predicted it will be spending its furies upon New England, eastern New York and passing on into the Atlantic.

Damage reported up to noon had been small but throughout the Middle West, where the tornado that swept over central Illinois almost a year ago, with a loss of some two thousand lives, was foremost in mind.

The storm caused great apprehension.

Indianapolis, Feb. 25.—Virtually all of Indiana was swept by a gale early today that followed torrential rains and caused considerable damage.

A fifty-mile-an-hour gale swept through Indianapolis, impending traffic and damaging property. Evansville reported a fifty-six-mile gale and Louisville, Ky., reported a sixty-mile wind.

Vernon and Warsaw, Ind. reported miniature tornadoes that unroofed houses, tore down chimneys and uprooted trees.

Fonddulac, Wisc., Feb. 25.—One of the most severe wind and snow storms of years swept this city early today. Commencing yesterday afternoon, with the heavy rains, the storm developed this morning into a raging blizzard.

New Orleans, Feb. 25.—Meager reports received here today reported Crystal Springs, Miss. cut off from the outside world. All wire communications were lost, caused by high winds last night. The extent of the damage could not be learned.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 25.—Five persons are reported killed near Jenny, Ark. A farmer named Tyson, living near here, and his three children were killed while his wife is not expected to live, advises state.

Unconfirmed reports from various parts of Chisco County, Arkansas say that several persons have been killed there.

Lake Village, Ark., Feb. 25. — Four persons, three whites and one negro, were killed at Chicot, near here, in a tornado which struck this section last night, according to delayed reports received here this afternoon. About twenty negro cabins were wrecked near Eudora, Ark., by the twister.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 25.—Cyclonic winds and torrential rains swept through a half dozen southern states last night and early today with a known toll of seven killed and a half-dozen injured. Property damage was considerable with a half-dozen towns isolated.

There seems to be a good many farms over the county that have not been rented. I believe the time is coming when the farm owner will have to rent on the shares as so many of the farms are getting pretty well worn, and will compel the owner to seed part of his land to grass in order for more production to be had per acre and enable the tenant to make a decent living for his family.

The sale of Deardorff and McMurry, southwest of town, Tuesday, brought out a large crowd and good prices were paid for the offerings. After the sale was over and dinner served, the crowd moved in a body to the home of Pat Lyons, where Mr. Lyons was having a closing out sale. The crowd hadn't lost any of its liberal bidding on the way over as in a very short time the offerings changed ownership at good prices.

John Deardorff, who has been living on the George McMurry farm, southwest of Maryville, moved to the Pat Lyons farm, one mile east of where he has been living. Mr. Lyons will go west for a new location.

"Little Annie Rooney" at College Tonight

Film Featuring the "World's Sweetheart" to Be Shown Also Tomorrow Night and Saturday

The saucy, mischievous imp who is beloved by millions throughout the world is back on the silver screen.

Mary Pickford has forsaken the ruffled laces and bejeweled gowns of costume plays and has returned to the type of role that made her famous.

"The World's Sweetheart" is again the curly haired, prank playing, impetuous Irish lassie in "Little Annie Rooney" her latest United Artists Corporation photoplay, which comes to the College tonight, tomorrow night and Saturday night.

"Little Annie Rooney" starts with a fight and ends with a fight. In between are laughs galore, a tear or two, much suspense and many heart throbs. It's an ideal story for Mary Pickford and her characterization of Little Annie is one of genuine artistry, played as no other actress could play it.

The story is one of the slums of New York, an epic of those crowded, musty thoroughfares on the East Side, where men, women and children in motley array swarm like ants in an ant hill.

Little Annie is one of a million there. She is the leader of a gang of boys which is continually getting into battles with a rival gang.

While still a child Annie is plunged into a maelstrom of dramatic incidents that first sober the impulsive girl, then bring out the heroic qualities so often found in children of the slums.

"Little Annie Rooney" is from an original story by Katherine Hennessey. The title is familiar through the old time song of that name, but there has never been a book nor a story of "Little Annie Rooney."

San Francisco, Feb. 25.—Chaplain Orville Clampitt, U. S. A. today pleaded "not guilty" to charges of intimacy with Miss Lucille Swallow, pretty Kansas girl.

There are two specific charges against the chaplain, both of which he denied. One was that he was intimate with Miss Swallow in 1924 while at Fort Leavenworth. The other accusation was that Clampitt financed an illegal operation for Miss Swallow.

Parlor Bolshevism Is Denounced by McQuigg

Head of American Legion Says Changes In Constitution Should Be Made Slowly.

Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 25.—"Parlor bolshevists and misguided internationalists" were denounced by National Commander John R. McQuigg of the American Legion, in an address before various civic bodies here today.

Speaking of the pledge to the nation which the league inserted in its constitution, Commander McQuigg said, "The constitution has withstood the test of more than a century. It has seen us through various periods of development. Was an effort to amend it made while war was on?"

"It may seem necessary to amend it to meet the changed conditions of an age of steam, electricity and modern invention, but when changes are made let it be after careful study and thorough consideration."

Jesse Engle, Pioneer Cattle Breeder, Dies

Senior Member of Well Known Hereford Firm Is Buried at Lutesteon Cemetery.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Jesse Engle, senior member of the well known Hereford breeding firm of Engle and Sons, who died Monday at his home near Sheridan. Burial was made at Luteston cemetery.

Mr. Engle was known as the "grand old man" of the cattle breeding industry in this section. Although he was advanced in years, he was a familiar figure at all cattle sales. Engle and Sons always had cattle at the more important shows and took many first prizes.

Hopkins Man Badly Injured in Runaway

Pleas Jackson, east of town, was badly hurt last Monday morning when he was thrown from his buggy while bringing his daughter to Hopkins, where she attends school. He was driving a span of colts and they became frightened near the Don Hanna farm and ran away. Mr. Jackson was thrown into a barbed wire fence, his face being cut terribly. Dr. Kirk dressed the wounds and Mr. Jackson was able to return to his home. The daughter escaped injury.—Hopkins Journal.

Coming In--

The crowds are coming from far and near to profit by our misfortune. We have our stock arranged on racks so that you will not have any trouble in selection. The stock is clean looking—you would never guess that there had been a fire in our store. The only thing that would indicate that we had a fire is the price that you will see attached to each and every pair of shoes. The price is so right that you will never hesitate in buying a shoe supply to last you for months and years.

Going Out--

Yes, Sir, the Shoes are going out with the crowds. Every person who came in this morning went out carrying a package—packages—for they could not resist buying. They may have come in thinking that they would not buy, but they soon changed their minds. We defy anyone to come into our store and really look at our stock and get away without convincing himself that he should buy. Just think of this and you'll understand the reason. The highest price shoe that we are offering in our sale is

$3.85

These were formerly $5, $6, $7 and $8 values.

You will be surprised to find the many other values that we are offering. Every shoe just as good as it was the day before the fire, but we MUST DISPOSE OF EVERYTHING.

Surprise Mrs. McDougal.

The Ladies Auxiliary to Seth Ray David Post, V. F. W., surprised Mrs. R. L. McDougal at her home on East First street last night, arranging the affair as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. McDougal, who will leave Sunday morning to visit her son, John McDougal, and family, at Atlanta, Ga. Games were played at three tables and a quartette composed of Misses Hilda and Helen Lahr, Miss Marie Bluel and Mrs. Sam Bithos sang old time songs, Miss Hilda Lahr playing the accompaniments. Refreshments were served cafeteria style. In the party were Mrs. S. T. Gile, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White, Mrs. Sam Bithos, Mrs. Leo Knox, Mrs. Maggie Lahr, Misses Hilda and Helen Lahr, Mrs. Tony Bluel, Miss Marie Bluel, Mrs. Mary Gault, Miss Dessa Gault, Mrs. Cooper Gooden, Mrs. Jack Pennington, and Misses Agatha and Louise Kroetch.

Cole-Robison.

Last Friday, Virgil Robison, linotype operator for this paper, and Miss Lucille Cole, of Barnard, stole a march on their friends by going to Atchison, Kansas, where they were married at 9 a. m., and returned to Barnard that evening. They were accompanied by John Price, Jr., of Maryville and Miss Ellen Sheley, of Hopkins. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cole of Barnard, where Mr. Cole is cashier of the Barnard State Bank, and is a young lady of many accomplishments and prepossessing in appearance. She is a graduate of the Barnard high school and has also attended the State Teachers College at Maryville. The groom comes from one of the best families of Barnard and is also a graduate of the high school of that town. He is a fine appearing young man and while he has been with the Journal but a few weeks, he has won for himself a number of friends here. The newlyweds came to Hopkins Monday noon and for the present will make their home at the Olmsted hotel. —Hopkins Journal.

Hopkins P. E. O's Entertain.

An annual event always looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure, and especially so by the men in whose honor it is given, is the entertaining of the B. I. L's by the ladies of the P. E. O. Sisterhood, and the event this year was one of the most enjoyable of any yet held. It was given last Friday night at the spacious and always hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Turner, a mile south of Hopkins. The rooms were tastefully decorated with the patriotic colors while the centerpiece on the tables from which the guests were served were small silk flags. The place cards were cute as could be—minature cherry trees and George Washington's little hatchet. A clever toast was given to the B. I. L's. by Mrs. H. C. Clutter who intimated that the men might be loafing on the job by always being entertained instead of entertaining and in his response, R. A. Turner made it plain that the B. I. L's will see to it that the ladies in the future won't have grounds to make complaint along this line, the men already planning a big picnic for the P. E. O's as soon as the weather wil permit. A three course dinner was served and the men sure lived up to the meaning of the mysterious letters, "P. E. O.," taking it for granted they stand for "Partake Enormously Occasionally." Music both instrumental and vocal was furnished by Miss Cleo Dalby and the Turner young folks. Progress hearts was the amusement feature and various laughable stunts were indulged in. The winners at hearts were made to give impromptu talks on different subjects which afforded no end of merriment, prizes being given for the best ones. Mrs. C. E. Donlin won first; R. A. Turner, second and Harry Clutter, third. When it came time to say, "goodnight," the guests departed hoping for many more such pleasant evenings. The committee planning and arranging for this event was composed of Mrs. W. C. Harper, Mrs. H. A. Dalby and Mrs. R. A. Turner. They were assisted in serving by the Misses Florine and Phylis Turner and Cleo and Irma Dalby. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Mutti, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dalby, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Donlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Litsch, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Roy King, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Robb, Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Monroe, Glenn Jeffers, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Clutter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wolfers, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Moorhead, Misses Doris Clutter, Ruth Hopple, Cleo and Irma Dalby and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Turner and family. —Hopkins Journal.

Music and Literature Program.

A program, universally pronounced one of the finest in several seasons, was presented yesterday afternoon at the open session of the music and literature department of the Twentieth Century Club at the College auditorium. The attendance was the largest of the present club year, despite the inclement weather. Preceding the presentation of "The Masque of the Dead Florentines" by Ernest Kroger, Mrs. Lawrence L. St. Clair, general director, read a paper concerning the characters in real life. The paper had been prepared by Mrs. E. G. Orear, who is out of the city.

Mrs. St. Clair was assisted in coaching the production by Mrs. J. R. Wallin, Mrs. Arthur Noid, Mrs. Vada Halley and Mrs. R. M. Barry as group directors. The scenery was in charge of Miss Blanche Dow; the curtain and lighting, Mrs. Marve Peery; the costumes, Mrs. Halley, Mrs. H O. Hickernell and Mrs. Steve Roach; and the make-up, Mrs. Arthur Brewer.

The chorus and soloists included Mrs. D. J. Thomas, Miss Mae Corwin, Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend, Mrs. Ralph Eversole and Mrs. Leonard Bosch. Mrs. E. W. Glenn and Mrs. C. E. Wells were the accompanists and Mrs. I. E. Tulloch acted as reader.

Before the prelude, the folds of the curtains were drawn aside by two pages dressed in white, (Paul Person and Jean St. Clair), and the mediaeval herald appeared. At the conclusion of his verses, he stepped back and the curtains were drawn together. The chorus entered and the curtains were fully parted as the final notes of the prelude were being played, revealing a garden near Florence where the reincarnated Florentines appeared to the music allotted to each. The lines were recited and chorus or solos rendered. Afterward the characters participated in the various tableaux or dances and disappeared slowly to the right. The same plan of action was followed in part two.

The lines read or sung depicted the life of the characters, a eulogy or reproach as the life deserved, and apostrophes concerning death.

The costumes, while being true to the time represented, were in most cases symbolical of the life or work of the character and further emphasized by the object borne by each. For instance Poliziano, (Mrs. F. W. Crow), carried a muffled rote, Petrarch, (Mrs. John White), has his heart in an urn, and Machiavelli, (Mrs. D. E. Hotchkin), carried a skull, etc.

Others in the cast were Mrs. Garnett Watt, Miss Grace Langan, Mrs. J. R. Wallin, Mrs. Henderson Aley, Eunice Eversole, Barbara Gray, Miss Dessa Gault, Mrs. Sam Bithos, Mrs. Marve Curnutt, Mrs. Brint Embree, Mrs. Arthur Noid, Mrs. William Van Cleve, Mrs. Francis Barmann, Mrs. Marve Peery, Mrs. E. B. Woodward, Mrs. Vada Halley, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. J. Z. Curnutt, Mrs. Arthur Brewer, Mrs. C. P. Fryer, Mrs. H. W. Meek, Mrs. Leslie Rhodes, Mrs. R. W. Richards, and Mrs. R. M. Barry.

Only one stage rehearsal of the Masque had been held. Much credit for the success of the production is due to the ready response of each participant in chorus, solos, action, costuming and assisting directors and producers.

GOVERNOR ADDRESSES STATE MEETING OF ASSESSORS.

POINTS TO LEVY CUTS

State Should Have Co-operation in Economic Government, Executive Declares.

Jefferson City, Feb. 25.—The state assessors association opened its annual session here today. Governor Sam A. Baker was the principal speaker. He urged placing all property on the assessment books.

The governor declared that in view of the necessity for operating the government of Missouri economically, all property of the state should be assessed to the full limit of the law.

The governor stated that since the legislature in 1921 made substantial reductions in all classes of taxes, and since again in 1923, the legislature made a further reduction of the property tax from 7 to 5 cents on the $100 valuation, and since the inheritance tax was reduced by increasing the exemption, it was necessary for the assessors to cooperate in assessing to the entire valuation of the property.

Would Limit Traders in Wheat on Market

Washington, Feb. 25.— Individual traders in the wheat market would be limited to one million bushels daily under an amendment to the grain futures act, introduced in the Senate today by Senator Arthur Capper, Republican of Kansas. The amendment was designed to prevent unrestricted raiding of the market with subsequent sharp declines in wheat values.

Well, We Should Hope To Shout; It Was Some "Red Warm" Party

Oh, boy! What a party it was.

Never since the Hez Rasco trial has the circuit courtroom been so crowded, and never since the old building was erected have its walls come so near to crumbling from explosions within.

Last night the Democrat-Forum and Tribune, co-operating with the State Teachers College, was "at home" in the courthouse for all who wished to hear the play-by-play story of the Maryville-Springfield game as it was ticked over the telegraph wires from the Springfield gymnasium.

It was the first time that this had ever been done, and the courtroom was packed—seats, aisles, tables, doors, and windows—and many, many persons stood in the corridors, craning their necks in an effort to catch each word of the detailed report.

Shortly before 8 o'clock, the first message came. It carried the line-ups; it told of the referee, the crowd.

But that was not what the crowd wanted. It grew restless. Was the game on? Had Maryville scored? What was happening?

And then came the first of the series of reports, which made almost a continuous story of the game.

Exactly at 8 o'clock the game started in Maryville. The crowd was in an uproar. The courtroom was stuffy. People were cramped. There was milling in the aisles and confusion in the corridors.

The came the messenger with the first yellow slip.

Someone should have dropped a pin. It's sound would have been thunderous compared to the stillness in the auditorium. Its echo would have reverberated from the four walls of the room and would have crashed back and forward against the hundreds of heads, which were all alertness—all eagerness.

The report was read. Another came immediately. Springfield had scored. Poor audience! Why look so downcast? Why be so forlorn? The game has only started.

And then slip after slip was relayed from the telegraph office. Springfield led, but Maryville trailed closely. After each reading, perspiration was mopped from dripping foreheads and unclenched hands showed damp palms.

The second half is on. Maryville takes a 1-point lead. The announcer must stop, while the masonry of the courthouse braces itself against the terrible assault of enthusiasm which threatens to hurl the roof skyward and the walls outward.

Three times the score is tied. When Maryville springs into the lead, the audience catches its breath. When Springfield evens the count, there is almost agony on its face.

And then comes the spurt, which is a sedative to the blood strained temples of the hearers. A smile comes on the face of the audience. It broadens into a grin as the Bearcats fight into the fore. Then comes a sharp intake of breath as Springfield rallies momentarily. But it gives way immediately to a hearty laugh as Ungles flips the final counter.

The game is over. What before had only been a growl of satisfaction, now increases into a roar of delight. The crowd is on its feet. Business men outyell college freshmen. Everybody is happy—and everybody is tired, thanks to the realistic efforts of the man of Springfield who sent the story.

But that isn't all. Such a frenzy of enthusiasm does not spend itself immediately. The townspeople went home, but the College students went wild. They paraded the streets; they stormed the picture show—they were quite excited.

And this morning—when Maryville was running along as a town should, in a businesslike sort of way, the bedlam broke loose again. The student body of the College was "out" again.

Down town it came, hand in hand, forming a long snake. Around the courthouse it circled easily. A human wall hemmed in that place of legal sobriety.

Then it broke. To this office it came, full of thanks for the party of last night. A moment of yells, songs, and toe-trampling. Then it broke again. The telegraph office was stormed next. Telegram after telegram went to the Bearcats, who play in Pittsburg, Kan., tonight.

And then, worn out but happy, the hubbub subsided.

A conference championship is almost assured. It has already been celebrated.

Yes—'twas quite a party.

196 Phone Calls Querie Score of Game Last Night

All of the basketball fans weren't at the courthouse last night to get the play-by-play story of the Maryville Springfield game. Many of them stayed at home, as is shown by the manner in which the five telephones at the Democrat-Forum and Tribune rang during and after the game.

A check of calls during the game and up to shortly after 9 o'clock last night showed that the boys, who stayed in the office answered 196 calls.

No check was made on the calls which came to this office this morning, but There must have been twenty-five or thirty more.

A crowd of rooters was assembled at Burlington Junction, where telephone reports were received every 10 minutes. There were many calls from other towns in the county, and a few from other counties.

Around Our Town

Certain doctors, teachers and business men of Maryville forgot the seriousness of their everyday life last night and were as young as the youngest at the basketball party held in the courthouse.

Why is it that some wives make such a fuss at their husbands when they smoke a cigar and then turn around and hop up in a flurry when the head of the family disapproves of something which they do?

It would seem that a certain printers' helper in Maryville has been hiding his light under a bushel. Last night when he was carrying messages to the courthouse, some shy young thing volunteered the following, "Look at that smile. Gosh! He should be in the movies."

Wilson McMurry drove to Rock Port Tuesday on business. Rain had something to do toward altering the condition of the roads after he got there, and, after consulting the weather forecast, if is understood that he is seeking a permanent location in the Atchison County town.

Gus Romasser, deputy sheriff, had a dream last night that he had caught a foot and a half bass. Mr. Romasser says when he has a dream like this, it is a sign that fishing time will soon be here and that winter is over, with the exception of perhaps a few blusters.

A visitor in the sheriff's office this morning said Gus is trying to take the place of the ground hog.

The basketball game last night is even reflected in advertising today. One shoe store around our town has a window display today entitled, "Champions All." In it are styles of shoes for each of the Bearcat players. There are the "Abie," the "Ungles," the "Captain," the "Burks" and there are even the "Shorty" and "Pete," both of which are rubber boots.

BEARCATS COME FROM REAR TO WIN LAST NIGHT, 28-22

Springfield Cagers Lose On Own Court—Maryville Quintet Trails At Half But Spurts Ahead In Final Period of Game.

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 25.—The Maryville State Teachers College Bearcats invaded Springfield last night and in this gymnasium virtually cinched championship honors in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association by defeating the Southwest Teachers College Bears in a sensational, break-neck game, 28 to 22.

It was a wild game, and a wild crowd of 3,500 spectators—more than had ever watched a basketball game here before—filled each seat and crowded each window and doorway, watching the visitors from the North climb from behind in the second half and finally forge into the lead, to win by 6 points.

Springfield led at the half, 11 to 10. The Bears had gained a 4-point lead to start with, and the visitors were not able to equal it in the first semester.

Three times in the second half, the count was tied. First it was 12-12; then 13-13; and finally 15-15. Then Maryville spurted into the lead.

Leon Ungles, who was substituted for Captain Aldrich in the first half, led the Maryville scoring with 11 points. Burks, another forward, was second with 8 points. Captain Davis of Springfield was high point man of the game, with 13 points.

Three thousand fans had packed the Teachers College gymnasium to capacity here at 7 o'clock last night for the championship M. I. A. A. basketball game. Hundreds of fans were being turned away from the doors.

The lineup for the game follows:

Maryville—Burks and Aldrich, forwards; Berst, center; Joy and Blomfield, guards.

Springfield—Davis and Fox, forwards; Ray Britton, center; Ward and Mumford, guards.

The referee was Victor Trussler, University of Kansas.

Maryville was the first to appear on the floor. The Springfield team appeared about five minutes later and was given a big ovation. The game started promptly at 8 o'clock.

With every player on fighting edge for the battle the two teams lined up for the big game. "Abie" Blomfield stretched high into the air and tipped the ball back to Joy, who tried for a long field goal from the center of the court. Aldrich, the Maryville captain, got the ball near the center of the floor and shot at the goal but missed. Blomfield took the ball from the Bear's offense and shot from the center of the court. The shot was short.

The two teams battled on even terms for the next minute. Burks received a personal foul on account of hacking Fox, Springfield forward. Fox missed the free throw and Maryville again attempted a long shot.

Davis received a pass under the Springfield goal and looped the ball through the meshes for the first counter of the game. The Springfield forward caught the ball on the tip off and shot from the center of the court. Again the shifty Springfield forward connected and the Bears led 4 to 0.

Maryville players kept trying the score from long distance without success, although they were in possession of the ball most of the time. The fighting was even and both teams presented air-tight defense, forcing long shots. Time out for Springfield at the end of 7 minutes. The breathing spell was welcomed by both teams.

A personal foul was called on Berst. Fox made the first shot, but missed his second attempt.

Joy and Berst each attempted long shots but missed. The Maryville team was passing wildly, and, appeared to be over anxious.

Burks dribbled to within shooting distance, poised and shot, the ball oozing through the meshes for Maryville's first field counter of the game.

Davis made another goal from the center of the court, the Bear forward being exceptionally hot on the long shots.

With 10 minutes of the game over, Burks again counted from the field, shooting the ball from near the center of the court.

Blomfield fouled Fox, who missed the try at the free throw, but caught the ball on the rebound and dribbled passed the Maryville guard for a basket.

A personal foul was called on Ward of Springfield. Captain Aldrich missed the free throw, and the Maryville players resorted to long shots. A personal foul was called on Ray Britton, and Berst made good the free throw. Ungles was substituted for Aldrich and Burks assumed the Maryville captainacy. On a technical foul on Berst, Davis counted from the free throw line.

Davis fouled Ungles as he attempted to shoot and the Maryville player was awarded two shots, but missed both trials.

With 4 minutes remaining in the first half, Ungles received a pass from Joy, crouched and shot; the ball went true and drew Maryville 2 points closer to Springfield. Blomfield continued in getting the tip-off against Britton, tipping the ball to Ungles, who dribbled once and shot as a Springfield guard closed in on him. It was an easy shot, but the ball was wide.

Burks fouled Fox, who was given two free throws, missing the first, but looping the ball through the meshes on the second trial.

Ungles again received a pass near the side lines, and, as he started to shoot, Britton fouled the flashy Maryville forward. Ungles made good both attempts and the half ended with the Springfield Bears holding a bare 1-point lead; the score being 11 to 10.

Both teams were passing wildly during the first half and the Bears were working the ball down deeper in Maryville territory. Ray Britton for Springfield missed several set ups in this half. Ungles was playing his greatest game for Maryville, dribbling and shooting with uncanny ability.

The crowd was cheering wildly as the second half started. Both teams appeared to be greatly benefited by the rest and started the half with a rush. The basketball was dazzling in speed and the crowd was on its feet during the greater part of the heif. Burks faked a pass to Berst and shot from the center of the court for a basket.

Berst darted in under the Maryville basket and received a pass, but missed an easy shot in attempting to hurry his shot. Berst fouled Davis and Davis made the throw, tying the score at 12 each.

Fox missed an easy shot under the basket. The Maryville offense was off with a flash, but ward fouled Ungles as the players rushed down the court. Ungles made good his free trial.

Berst made his third personal foul of the game, when he held Davis as the Springfield man attempted to shoot. Davis made the first shot, but missed in the second attempt. The score was knotted at 13-each.

Fox slipped in behind the Maryville guards and tossed the ball in for a counter.

Ward was removed from the game when he fouled Burks. This was the Springfield player's fourth personal foul of the game. Burks was given two free throws and he made both good, which again knotted the score.

Maryville got the ball on the tip-off and Blomfield shot from behind the center of the court, the ball hitting the rim, bounded high into the air and then dropped through the meshes.

Ungles Dribbles and Scores.

On the next play, Blomfield tipped the ball to Ungles, who dribbled down the sideline and, much to the delight of a little man in a black sweater with a big, red letter W, flipped the sphere through the wicket to make the score 19-15 in Maryville's favor.

Springfield called time out, with the second half 8 minutes old.

Ungles again was in the limelight when he shot from center, the ball settling through the nest with unerring accuracy.

On the next play, after the ball had been worked up and down the court twice, Berst was open in a corner. He took a pass and shot successfully with one hand. The score stood, Maryville, 23; Springfield, 15.

Dodd was substituted for Ray Britton. Ungles fouled Captain Davis, who missed the charity shot.

Bearcats Play Keep-Away.

With 8 minutes to go, Davis made a long goal from the center of the floor to increase his team's score to 17. The Maryville team took possession of the ball on the tip-off and immediately retreated to Springfield territory and proceeded to play keep-away.

Burks fouled Davis when there were 6 minutes to go. The Bear leader made the throw, making the score 23-18. A moment later, Mumford, Springfield guard, started to shoot and was tackled by Joy, Bearcat guard. Mumford made the first shot, but missed the second. Maryville, 23; Springfield, 19.

Maryville again resorted to a stalling game with 4 minutes to go. The Springfield crowd pleaded for action and the Bears valiantly attempted to take the ball from Maryville.

Berst Gets A Set-Up.

Ray Britten was substituted for Mumford. Berst slipped under the basket and negotiated a set-up. Maryville, 25; Springfield, 19. Only 3 minutes to play.

Fox made a field goal from under the basket. Clark missed a long try, and then fouled Berst, who made the free throw. Maryville, 26; Springfield, 21.

Ungles fouled Davis, who made the free throw. Davis missed a long shot, and Ungles took the ball, carried it down the field, and shot for the final score. The game ended, Maryville, 28; Springfield, 22.

Harold Braun Made M. H. S. Yell Leader

Harold Braun, an advanced senior, son of Mrs. Alma Braun, was elected as yell leader by the student body of the Maryville High School, at a special assembly late yesterday afternoon to succeed Graham Malotte, who has resigned.

Ralph Snoderly, who received the second highest vote of the students, was chosen as Braun's assistant. Miss Louise Logan, elected when the student body was reorganized several weeks ago, will continue to be one of the assistant yell leaders.

Malotte resigned the place because he is taking vocal lessons and his instructor advised him that he could not do justice to his lessons while holding the job of the yell leader.

3 H. S. TEAMS PLAY FRIDAY

BOYS TEAMS ON HERE; GIRLS AT SAVANNAH.

Three Maryville High School basketball teams will play tomorrow night. The boys first and second teams will be seen in action here and the girls will go to Savannah, where they will meet the high school sextet coached by Harry O. Ezell in a return game.

Coach "Bill" Herbert was undecided about his starting line-up against Maysville High School, champion of the Tri-State tournament at Tarkio two weeks ago. Because of scholastic difficulties, one or more of his first string players may be ruled out of competition tomorrow night. This will not be known until tomorrow, however.

If every player is eligible, he will use McKee and Swinford at forwards, Captain Kissinger at center, and Locke and Petty, guards.

The M. H. S. team will go up against a strong team in the Maysville five. It is a big, rangy team—one which will be more in class with the Spoofhounds than any other combination they have met this season. One of the Asbury brothers, at center, compare favorably with "Fox" Kissinger, Maryville center. He is lanky and fast, with a cunning eye for the basket.

"Viv" Marsh of St. Joseph will referee both games here tomorrow night. Marsh appeared here in several high school football games last fall as an official.

The starting line-up for the preliminary game between the Spoofhound seconds and the St. Patrick's team will depend on who will be used in the Maysville game.

The girls team will leave for Savannah on the 4:48 o'clock train tomorrow afternoon. Miss Ruth Bookman, coach, will take ten players with her. They are: The Wray sisters, Puckett, Chick, Miller, Davis, Murray, Smith, Wright, and Todd.

Captain Wray and Puckett will likely start at forwards, Miller and Davis at centers, and Wright and Smith at guards.

SPORT COMMENT

The Bearcats must have played several different kinds of basketball last night. We know that they passed wildly in the first half; we know that they made long shots; and we also know that they worked smoothly in the final minutes of the game.

"Abie" Blomfield surprised the crowd last night. He usually does not play much of an offensive game. But, several reports last night told of him shooting, and one related how he connected with a long flip from behind center

Pohn Pearson, sports editor of the Springfield Leader, sent the story to Maryville last night. He "covered" the game well. He said that Leon Ungles played a flashy game. So he must have, to be high-point man for his team and at that not to play the full game.

Tonight the Bearcats play the Pittsburg Normals at Pittsburg, Kan. This team is strong, terribly so. The Bearcats will be fortunate to win, inasmuch as the Kansans trimmed Warrensburg overwhelmingly this week. But perhaps the Bearcats will deliver the goods. Who knows?

When Maryville and Maysville high school teams meet here tomorrow night, local fans will see "Fox" Kissinger pitted against a center of equal proportions. Asbury, the Maysville pivot man, is reputedly strong.

P. A. sure makes a grand cigarette!

AND that's no bedtime story. It's great tobacco, for one thing. You'll say so! Prince Albert is crimp-cut and stays put. Doesn't flutter to the floor or take wings with the first wind. Easier to roll and a better smoke. Ask any roll-your-owner.

Cool and sweet and soothing, P. A.'s wonderful smoke sifts into your system and paints the dull, drab world a bright, cheerful red. Fragrant. Friendly. P. A. can't bite your tongue or parch your throat. The Prince Albert process voted "thumbs down" on that at the start.

Get yourself a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of P. A. today. Take out your papers, like a new citizen, and get busy with your finger exercise. Light up! Then you're ready to tell the ben-turpin world that no home-made cigarette ever came within a mile of that!

When you learn what wonderful tobacco P. A. is, try it in a jimmy-pipe. Thousands of men who wanted to smoke a pipe, but "didn't dare," have become jimmy-pipe regulars since they discovered Prince Albert. There's a friendly shop nearby. Go get yourself some P. A. now!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

The YELLOW STUB

by Ernest Lynn

COPYRIGHT 1926 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

HENRY RAND, 55, a business man, is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the stub of a yellow theater ticket.

JIMMY RAND, his son, goes to Springfield, where the theater is. The stub is traced to THOMAS FOGARTY, who says he gave it to OLGA MAYNARD, a cabaret singer.

Jimmy meets and falls in love with MARY LOWELL. Later he encounters Olga. She faints when she learns police want her for murder. Mary, out with SAMUEL CHURCH, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lifting Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.

Olga tells police the handkerchief and stub might have come into possession of a man who "picked her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives several mysterious warnings to leave Springfield but ignores them. Later he is attacked at night by two men but escapes.

With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church presses his advantage and gets Mary's promise to marry him. Mary tells Jimmy this when they meet. Jimmy, trying to hurt her, accuses her of marrying for money.

That evening, with Olga, he sees the man they are looking for—the man who is supposed to have got the ticket stub—in an automobile. It is one of the men who had attacked Jimmy. They follow the car, but the man and his companion escape. Later they recognize his picture in the Bertillion records as that of IKE JENSEN.

That same night Jimmy goes home to his room to find another warning letter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVI.

Jimmy, studying the letter, frowned. It was written in the same large, scrawly hand as the first one.

"This is your last chance," it said. "Either leave town in three days or they'll be carrying you out in a pine box."

He shrugged his shoulders, laughing. "Persistent cuss, whoever it is." Rising from his chair, he peeled off his coat and vest, lit a cigaret and throw himself down on the bed to smoke and reflect.

"It couldn't very well have been this Ike Jensen or the man who was with him tonight," he said. "Unless, of course, they brought it or sent it here early in the evening. Who was it? Who is it that's writing this stuff?"

He jumped up from the bed and extinguished his cigaret. "And how in the devil did the darned thing get there No stamp on it or anything. It's spooky—actually spooky. I'll have to ask Mrs. King about it in the morning."

He turned out the light and hopped into bed.

* * *

Mrs. King was in the kitchen when he came downstairs—it was just a little past six-thirty—and he thought, "What a hard working woman she is. Gets up with the birds and works till all hours at night. I wonder when she finds time to sleep."

"Good morning, Mrs. King," he said. "I found a letter in my room last night. How did it get there—do you know? It didn't come through the mail."

"Why, yes." She turned from the gas range and out of habit thrust her hands in her apron pocket. "A boy brought it shortly after you went out last evening."

"A boy, eh?" This was quite unexpected.

"Yes, a little fellow of perhaps ten or eleven."

"Did you ask him who sent it?"

"Why, no. I didn't consider it any of my business, who sent you letters. All he said was that a man gave it to him to deliver. Don't you know who it was from?" Again that eager curiosity on her part.

"No, I don't, Mrs. King. I'm puzzled about it. It's an anonymous letter from someone who seems intent on having me leave town. It's the second one I've found in my room. You remember that evening I came home and you told me you thought you had heard me moving around in my room upstairs?"

"Yes, I remember."

"Well, I found one that night. I think you probably did hear someone up there, but it was the man who left that note. I bumped into someone coming out the gate as I came in."

"Why, Mr. Rand! Don't tell me that! What does it mean?"

"I don't know what it means, Mrs. King. Perhaps you won't feel comfortable if I continue to stay here. I'll move out if you are afraid."

"Oh, I wouldn't think of asking you to move, Mr. Rand. It's so pleasant to have you here. You're no trouble and you're so neat and clean—not sloppy like so many roomers." She sighed. "I not afraid, Mr. Rand. There's a policeman around all the time now. I'm only afraid you'll run into some trouble some time while you're out."

His jaw set grimly. "I'll try to take care of myself. I just don't want to be a worry and bother to you. About this boy who brought the note. What did he look like? Had you ever seen him before around the neighborhood?"

"No, I hadn't."

"And you say he came shortly after I left last evening?"

"It wasn't more than five minutes."

"It looks as if somebody had been keeping his eye on the house and waiting for me to leave. He waited until I had gone, so I couldn't question the boy about who had given him the letter."

"If I had suspected anything wrong, Mr. Rand, I'd have asked him myself. But goodness knows I didn't give it a thought."

* * *

Arrived at the laundry office, he found that the man named Porter had left word with the delivery clerk that a new driver would report. The clerk, in shirt sleeves and vest, a pencil stuck behind his ear, asked a few questions and issued some brief instructions.

"Your main job is to deliver these packages of laundry and collect new batches to be washed. A smart fellow, however, goes a little beyond his job and tries to drum up new trade. Our drivers are our best means of selling this company to the people. They're the only ones who get the personal contacts outside.

"Now you look like a pretty bright fellow." Jimmy smiled, and the man continued. "Mr. Porter said he thought you had taken this job because you needed work and that you might quit as soon as you found something better. I want to tell you right now that this is no blind alley job. A man who's on his toes all the time and who gets us new business will find advancement waiting for him. Besides, there's a commission offered for new regular customers. This is a young concern and there's room here for brains. That's just a friendly tip. Now get out and see how it goes.

"Here's your route." He handed Jimmy a sheaf of papers. "Know the city?"

"Fairly well."

"Well, I've taken the trouble to lay out your route for you so you can cover it in the least time. Good luck."

"Thanks." Jimmy offered his hand, and the shirt-sleeved man shook it.

"Looks like a pretty bright guy," remarked the clerk to a fellow worker as Jimmy climbed into the truck. "No foolish questions, like some of the dumbbells that come in here. A lot of these morons that claim to be truck drivers can't be trusted to wheel a baby carriage, much less run an automobile."

* * *

"What a world!" remarked Jimmy, and laughed. He had driven out of the delivery barn and was acutally launched upon his newest—and rarest—job.

He wondered what his mother and Janet would think if they could see him, wondered what Barry Colvin would think—and Mary. Somehow no matter what course his thoughts took they invariably ended up with Mary Lowell.

"I was a fool," he said aloud, "to talk to her like that. If I had only unbent a little and explained what this whole thing was about, she'd have understood. One little word from me and it would have been different." He cursed himself for owning a temper that made him say things he didn't mean.

The events of the night before flashed through his mind. There was still a slight bump and discoloration on his temple where he had been struck down. The recollection of Olga standing in her doorway and asking him if he was coming back came to him and aggravated his mind.

He was threading his way through the morning rush hour traffic now and it was necessary to give his undivided attention to his driving. "No time for wool gathering," he muttered as a traffic policeman halted him with a turn of his semaphore.

Following the directions laid down in the route handed him by the shirt-sleeved clerk, he turned off the main thoroughfare at the street he had been looking for and soon found himself in a neat and well-kept residential neighborhood.

"Well, do your stuff, Rand," he laughed as he brought the delivery truck to a stop. "Let's see." He glanced again at his little sheaf of papers. "Smith—that's right."

He searched through his bundles, found the right one and started up the driveway to the back door. It suddenly occurred to him that this new job of his, laughable as it had seemed at first, might not be a bad thing.

"If I'm looking for Mr. Jensen," he said, "I'll surely have more chance of running into him if I'm driving around town all the time than if I were working inside some office."

The problem of finding Jensen, he thought, might be a matter of pure luck. This job of his would take him into odd places and a fellow could always keep his eyes open. . . . He mounted the back porch and knocked at the door.

It was opened by a little woman with black hair. A curly-headed boy of perhaps two and a half years tugged at her dress; another and younger baby sat in a high chair, eating cereal.

"Laundry, ma'am," he said, offering the bundle. "Three dollars and a quarter."

"Oh yes. Wait a minute and I'll get the money. Won't you come in?"

"What's your name, little man?" he asked the boy as the woman went into another room.

"Harry."

"Harry? That's a nice name. Harry what?"

"Harry Smiff."

"Well, that's just fine. You're a regular little man, aren't you?"

"No, Harry big man like Daddy."

Harry's mother laughed as she handed over the money to Jimmy. "Ma'ma pay the man," observed Harry.

"That's right, Harry. You ask Ma'ma if she has any laundry she wants to send back."

She laughed. "If you can wait while I gather it together. I don't like to keep you waiting."

"Glad to wait. No trouble."

While she gathered up the clothes Harry delighted his new visitor by reciting "Ittle Boy Boo, tum b'ow you born." Jimmy was vastly entertained and received a grave handshake and an invitation to come again when he told Harry goodby.

The job, he thought, had started out suspiciously. If many of his calls were as pleasant as this, it was going to be interesting. . . .

Time sped swiftly. He covered his route and went back to the laundry where he received a compliment from the shirt-sleeved clerk and was started out on another trip.

Five o'clock in the afternoon found him driving back again to the plant, his day's work done. Traffic again was heavy, the homeward flow of the workers of Springfield. He stopped at an intersection. A large roadster, headed in the direction opposite to his, attracted his attention by its handsome, racy lines.

He gave a sudden start. It was Samuel Church at the wheel, and Church was looking at him, his lips curled in a sneering smile. Traffic started again and Church turned to his companion. It was then that Jimmy saw it was Mary with him, and she was facing him directly, but looking through him—not at him.

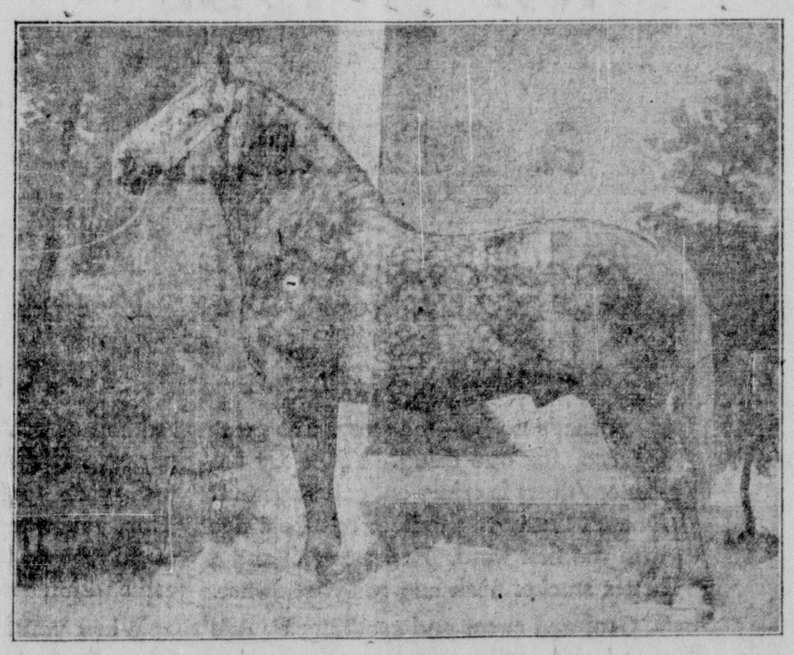
PURE-BRED HORSES AND GENERAL FARM SALE



PHENIX 42215

Will sell at public auction at the farm 4 miles South of Maryville, Mo., on

FRIDAY, MARCH 5th, 1926

Beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., the following described property, to-wit:

About 25 head of pure-bred horses, viz.: 20 Percherons, 5 Standard and Saddle-bred; and a few Shetland Ponies. This stock is all extra well bred and runs from weanlings to mature stock.

Among the lot is an outstanding Percheron Stallion (2, coming 3), fit to head any pure-bred herd. He has the "size and quality" both, with excellent and extra heavy bone, cleanest of big joints, and what is more, no draft colt (or horse if you please) has more natural style and action. He is simply a wonderful colt, the making of a great horse, the kind that have always been scarce. Selling him at a general farm sale, with only local advertising, the buyer is going to get a bargain at whatever he sells for. You might canvass many states and not find his equal. I can not describe each one here, space forbids, but attention is called to a good black 6-year Stallion, out of imported sire and dam, that is ready to make the big seasons that are sure now approaching.

The Old Champion Sire, PHENIX, will be offered, and because of his career, I will reserve the right to reject the bid on him, because of sentiment. He is still a great stock horse despite his years, but of course the bloom of younger days has gone.

The other young stallion colts in the lot will develop into good horses. There are some splendid work and brood mares and fillies, by Phenix (or in foal to him). The blood of Imported Kroiseur, son of the great Carnot, is also well infused in this bunch of Percherons. Two bay saddle fillies, 2 and 3 years old will please you. My saddle mare, that I have ridden myself for some time, will please you.

In short this is a lot of good useful stock and no better breeding anywhere. With the "new era" of the horse business already dawning, they are bound to do the buyer good. You can buy them at your own price, except as to PHENIX, as stated above. Will also sell line of farm implements, cows, calves and corn.

GET RID OF THAT BACKACHE!

Maryville People Point the Way.

The constant aching of a bad back, the weariness, the tired feeling; headaches, dizziness, nervousness, distressing urinary disorders—are often signs of failing kidneys and too serious to be neglected. Get rid of these troubles! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Hosts of people recommend Doan's. This is a Maryville case. You can verify it.

John Colwell, retired farmer, 404 S. Walnut St., says: "I was bothered with a dull aching across my kidneys and when I stooped sharp catches took me through the small of my back. A steady hurting in my back made me feel tired most of the time. I also had dizzy spells when little spots floated before my eyes. Doan's Pills soon relieved me. I still use Doan's occasionally and they always help me."

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Grain prices continued irregular on the Chicago Board of Trade today, wheat selling lower and corn scoring moderate advances. Oats was fully steady.

Prices fluctuated rapidly in the wheat pit and for a few minutes were above yesterday's levels but finally under the pressure of profit taking, sales sent prices to 1⅝ to 1¾ under yesterday's close. The cash market was steady. Export sales totalled approximately 400,000 bushels.

Buying by houses with western and northwestern connections gave corn continued strength and the undertone was strong in the light of continued decreasing receipts and the strong cash market.

Oats prices jumped back and forth within a narrow range and finally closed fully steady with the July delivery gaining ⅛ cent.

Liquidation sent provisions slightly lower.

Things to Know Before Baby Comes

THE expectant mother's comfort and well being is very important. And one of the most important things for her to do is to use Mother's Friend to keep the skin and muscles soft and pliable—thus aiding the tissues and muscles to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood. Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been used by expectant mothers for over three generations. No woman awaiting the joy of motherhood should allow the days to pass without using Mother's Friend.

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., writes: "I used Mother's Friend with all my babies and I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 31, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Too Tired to Go Out Nights? Beware of Chronic Fatigue

Thousands of men and women blame hard work for that "all-in" feeling every evening—when in most cases the real cause is chronic fatigue.

TOO TIRED to go out nights

Chronic fatigue is an unnatural tiredness—usually due to lack of sufficient organic iron in the blood. Nuxated Iron, which contains true organic iron like that in the blood, quickly restores this iron and banishes chronic fatigue. It gives new strength in 2 weeks or money back. Will not injure teeth or disturb the stomach. At all good druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD AND BANISHES CHRONIC FATIGUE

WILLIAMS TO OWN DEFENSE

A FORMER MARYVILLE PRINTER TAKES WITNESS STAND.

HE SOBS OUT STORY

Describes Scene At Shooting Of His Wife Last November.—Had No Thought of Unfaithfulness.

Fred Williams, former Maryville printer who is on trial at Omaha, charged with the murder of his wife November 30, was on the witness stand yesterday, according to the Omaha World-Herald. Williams said his mind is a complete blank as regards the time when the shooting is alleged to have occurred.

With no thought of unfaithfulness on the part of his wife, he said, he came to Omaha, and went into the basement of the home, intending to sleep in the basement during the night and to talk the situation over with his wife the next morning. The suicide was also to take place Monday. He heard footsteps coming into the house, he testified, and then he heard noises in the bed.

Williams said he then went upstairs into the kitchen, turned on a light in the dining room, turned on a lamp in the living room, and when he saw his wife and Weymiller in the bed, he insisted, his mind went blank. He said he could not recall shooting Weymiller, struggling with his wife, following her to the garage, or shooting her there.

Williams testified he thought much of domestic difficulties while he was in Sioux City.

"I became nervous, irritable, my eyes were bad, I had headaches, couldn't sleep, and had a poor appetite," he said. "I wanted a home."

On cross-examination by Deputy County Attorney Gross, Williams said that he found out a month before he was married that his prospective bride had been previously married. They discussed divorce at that time, he said. He gave his marriage date as June 6, 1919, and said he does not remember when his wife got her divorce from her first husband.

He was served with divorce papers the day he left Omaha for Sioux City, he said, and learned later that temporary alimony had been granted his wife.

Traces Life Since a Boy.

Williams traced his life since boyhood, dwelling on details of his employment, his marital relations, and incidents at 817 Park avenue which culminated in the slaying.

A crowded courtroom was hushed while Williams related in a quiet tone the details of home difficulties last fall. His father, who has been sitting next to him throughout the trial stayed outside of the courtroom while his son testified. A brother, Archie Williams, Billings, Mont., sat behind defense attorneys.

Williams insisted that he had regarded Lewis Weymiller, roomer, a menace in his home and that despite his protests, Mrs. Williams would not consent to ask Weymiller to leave. The final breakup was a result of this difficulty, Williams related. He said he purchased an automatic pistol and shells the day before he left Sioux City, November 29.

"I talked to my wife several weeks before, insisting that she was paying too much attention to Weymiller," Williams testified. "She denied it but matters to my mind grew worse daily. Finally I told her she must get rid of Weymiller or I would leave within a week. When the week was up Weymiller was still there. I said to my wife, 'Then I'm to go.' She said 'Yes' and I moved to Twenty-ninth street."

Incidents to which Williams objected, he said, included attention which Mrs. Williams paid to the roomer and his room, the interest Weymiller took in matters related to buying things for the home, and the manner in which Mrs. Williams agreed with points made by Weymiller.

Pimples

What can I do?

"OH, why can't I have a skin like other girls? Why do I have to have these ugly pimples, blotches and blackheads?

"If I could only find something that would clear up my skin and give me back my soft, rosy complexion, I know I would be the happiest girl in the world! What can I do?"

Is that you talking? If it is, you don't have to worry a minute! Just build up the rich, red blood in your body. Then your skin will be as clear and soft as anybody's.

That's what S. S. S. has been doing for generations—helping Nature build rich, red blood! You can build red-blood-cells so fast that the impurities that cause breaking out on the skin hardly get into the system before the pure blood annihilates them—kills them right out—stops them from breaking out through the skin.

And then this rich, red, pure blood feeds and nourishes the tissues of the skin and keeps it looking healthy.

That's all there is to it. Healthy, vigorous, red blood such as S. S. S. helps Nature build, makes you healthy all over. It beautifies your skin—drives away pimples, blackheads, blotches, rash, boils and eczema—gives you back your appetite—builds firm, plump flesh and fills you full of new life and energy.
